

Blake Emory

Blake has been a seasonal resident of Wild Horse Ranch for twenty years and was one of the first to develop a property there alongside his late father, Lenny Emory. Blake is passionate about art, music, and sculpting and has established a studio in one of Florida's most prestigious art districts. His work can be seen across the United States from New Mexico and Arizona to New York and Florida. Most recently, Blake's art work was featured at the Imagine Art Museum in Florida. He has also been working on a revitalization project at the famous Dali Art museum. Blake would like to see the Wild Horse Ranch Community thrive and is committed to making sure the HOA uses landowner dues to create a peaceful, safe, and well maintained community.
